

The Skeleton in the Secret's Closet: Canadian Author Reveals All

Elfreda Pretorius, author of Stop Struggling and Start Living: The Rules of the Game, says that unless you reclaim your power and unlearn destructive thought patterns, the Law of Attraction is simply not enough to fundamentally change anything in your life.

The debunkers and non-believers have already set up camp and are encouraging the disillusioned crowd to contact talk show hosts and write letters to newspapers, claiming the Law of Attraction doesn't work. "People follow fads and give away their own power and then become frustrated," Pretorius said, "because they do not realize that unless they change the way they think, nothing at all will change in their lives."

Pretorius has had great success in helping others discover the real source of their own power, which multiplies the effect of the Law of Attraction and all the other natural Laws by ten times.

Stop Struggling and Start Living has received rave reviews from readers around the world who have learned to become response able. Their successes include:

- Overcoming years of depression by learning how to control their thoughts
- Discovering new ways of responding that lead to astonishing results in healing relationships
- Improving health in dramatic ways
