Author of *Open Your Heart With Bicycling

Shawn Rohrbach was born in Seattle on April 16, 1956. He was raised (although he has not quite yet grown up) in the mountains of the Cascade Range at the summit of Snoqualmie Pass. He graduated from Mt Si High School in Snoqualmie, Washington and completed his bachelor of arts degree at the Seminary of Christ the King, operated by the Benedictine Monks of Westminster Abbey in Mission, British Columbia.

He completed his master of fine arts at the Jack Kerouac School of Disembodied Poetics, known now as Naropa University in Boulder, Colorado. He earned his certificate in the Fundamentals of Bicycle Mechanics and the Advanced Certificate in Wheel Building from the Bend Bicycle Workshop in Bend Oregon under the guidance of Joe Bianculli. Currently Shawn serves as the Associate Dean of Technology at ITT Technical Institute in Everett, Washington.
